

Henri Rousseau was a French post-impressionist artist. Henri was a self-taught painter and even though most of his well-known paintings are of jungle scenes he never set foot in a jungle. Instead, he took his inspiration from botanical gardens and illustrations in books.

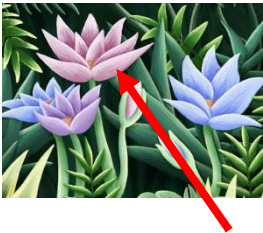

Vocabulary
Composition		The arrangement of elements of art
Shade		When an artist darkens a colour
Foreground		Part of the picture closest to you
Background		The space that surrounds your artwork
Mixed-media		Artwork in more than one medium

Final outcome

Skills
I can analyse the work of a famous artist
I can create shades of green
I can draw flowers from observation
I can draw an animal from 4 perspectives
I can create a back ground
I can create a mixed media collage

Over-sized flowers

Bold outlines

